2 Buses Carry Maximum Load To Compton Tilt

The response to the sign-up chart on the bulletin board in the main hall indicates that a rooter's bus will go to Compton tomorrow.

The faculty member making the trip will be Mr. George Abbott, journalism instructor. Rooters will go to Compton and return without an overnight stay, thereby reducing the cost for each person.

Dr. Lionel R. Olsen, dean of student personnel, reminds students that these rooters are contributing to the over-all team morale as Compton is always a great competitor for top junior college football laurels in southern California.

Kickoff Rally Features Award

A kickoff rally for tomorrow's football game with the Compton Tartars will be held at 9 a.m. today in the Men's gymnasium.

Coach Ken Blue will speak, and an award for last week's outstanding player will be made. A special award will be given by the football team. The college band will play.

ICC Requests Clubs Ponder Queen Floats

Further plans for the Hartnell homecoming week were made at Interclub council meeting this week. ICC decided to refer to club groups questions about floats, queen candidates and theme.

A suggestion was made at the meeting to the effect that each queen candidate sponsored by a club would ride on a convertible-type float. Another suggestion required clubs to enter regular flat-bedded truck floats. The decision on the two ideas has not yet been made and it is possible that the individual clubs will be permitted to use their own discretions.

The ICC decided that each club will be asked to present a suggestion for a possible homecoming theme. Floats will be required to adhere generally to the theme chosen.

It is possible that the queen candidates and floats will be pre-

Students Use New Laboratory

Dr. James Wilson Supervises New A & M Science Laboratory

A new bacteriological laboratory has opened on the Hartnell A and M campus under the supervision of Dr. James Wilson, biological science instructor.

The new facility is being used by bacteriology students this fall and will be used by Dr. Wilson's physiology class in the spring. The three laboratory tables can accommodate 18 students during each laboratory period.

Laboratory equipment has been designed so that it may be moved easily to the new on-campus science building which the college hopes to build in a few years.

Used for Rubber Research

The A and M building was a United States department of agriculture guayule rubber research laboratory, before the Alisal property was purchased by the college for the agriculture and mechanics school. A chemistry research bench which can be used for demonstrations and hoods for carrying off irritating fumes from chemicals were already in the laboratory.

Each of the new laboratory tables is 40 inches high. This is becoming common in colleges and universities because it permits students to work comfortably and efficiently, Dr. Wilson said. Stools will also be provided.

The main 20x45-foot laboratory will be equipped with 12 microscopes for use in examining bacteria, molds and yeasts. The course requires the staining of these micro-organisms so they may be seen and studied.

Two Instructors Study on Leaves

Two Hartnell instructors, Mr. Vahe Aslanian and Mr. W. C. Crisswell, are on sabbatical leave this year. Mr. Aslanian is studying music in Italy, while Mr. Crisswell is at the University of Virginia studying recent advances in science.

Mr. Aslanian, who received a Fulbright scholarship last spring, has received an additional $500 Rockefeller grant. He has toured Europe for the past several weeks and is now continuing formal music studies in Italy.

Mr. Crisswell is studying chemistry, mathematics, geology and biology under a National Science Foundation scholarship.

Ulrici Names Players For "As You Like It"

The cast for the Hartnell college-community playhouse presentation of William Shakespeare's "As You Like It" was announced this week by Mr. Hal Ulrici, director of the group.

It is as follows: Mr. Walter Leineke, "Orlando"; Robert Yost, "Adams"; Robert Grossman, "Oliver"; George Brown as the banished duke; Harold Tomasi, "Duke Frederick"; Lynne Tavernetti, "Rosilind"; Ruth Eldred, "Gelia"; Elizabeth Everton, "Touchstone"; Charles Morgan, "Charles," a wrestler; George Whitney, "Jacques"; Daniel Marsh, "Amiens"; Robert Yost, "William," and Tommy Tanner as a lord. Two small parts, "Gorin" and "Audrey," have not been filled. Charles Meros is stage manager.

"As You Like It" has proved very popular in the United States, according to Mr. Ulrici. The Hartnell players will not be doing a full length version. They will do a cut version which results in a quick and snappy production which modern audiences like, according to Mr. Ulrici.

The play will run for three days, Nov. 6, 7, and 8, and student body card holders will again be able to see the production for 50 cents.

Trio Selected To Lead Band For 1958 Season

Charles Durham, Tom Taylor and Richard Van Buren will lead the marching band for the 1958 football season. The three men will alternate as drum majors throughout the season, which ends on Thanksgiving day. After the marching season, the band will begin concert music.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Lee, will participate in various events during the year. A pep band will be formed to play at basketball games.

Mr. Lee has also been having tryouts during the past week for majorettes. About eight women have tried out and from this eight, three or four will be chosen as majorettes for the football season.

Committee Selected To Consider Buying New Station Wagon

The student commission Tuesday appointed a committee to consider the purchase of a new station wagon for the student body. The committee is headed by Carl Bergeron and includes Jim Stireman, Bill Throgmorton, Ethel Boutte and Barbara Alinio.

A maximum charge for dances was also passed. The maximum charge is 40 cents for couples and 25 cents for stags. The magazine committee recommended the purchase of several magazine subscriptions. The commission approved.

Throgmorton Tops Delegates To Convention

A Hartnell delegation of 20 members, led by Student Body President Bill Throgmorton, will represent Hartnell at the regional student government conference Oct. 18.

Various committee groups will meet to discuss social activities, finance, athletics, student government and student publications. Commissioner Ethel Boutte is accepting applications for this conference which will be held at Concord the same day as the Hartnell-Diablo Valley football game.

A resolutions committee will draw up the first draft of the resolutions and recommendations that the Hartnell delegation will present to the general assembly.

Twenty delegates may attend the meeting. First preference will be given to student commissioners. They will be followed in order by class officers, members of the parliamentary procedure class and other students.

Dr. Lionel R. Olsen, dean of student personnel, stresses that the conferences conducted by the California Junior College Student Government association are conducted yearly and involve both regional and statewide meetings. He said they offer excellent opportunities for students to practice the methods of democratic citizenship.

Early Homecoming Publicity Urged

Customarily, the Interclub council at Hartnell is supposedly responsible for coordination and publicizing of plans emanating from the various campus organizations.

Needless to say, if things work out as planned, the Panther Sentinel supports this arrangement because it betters these organizations' positions publicity-wise and simplifies our newsgathering problems.

As the date of homecoming activities approaches, it behooves us to speculate on the homecoming fiasco of a year ago.

At that time not only those who were supposed to be in the know-it-all about the activities shunted Panther Sentinel reporters from one person to another, but also these same know-it-alls did not have a specific program of their own until a day or two before the event. What followed is now campus history.

We hope that in this year's homecoming preparations we will see a marked improvement; that those responsible for its preparation will not adopt the "que sera, sera" attitude. Early indications are that those in charge of the 1958 homecoming intend to make this year celebration one of the best in the history of Hartnell.

Jobs Are Secured
For 175 Applicants
By Hartnell Bureau

Approximately 175 students are employed in part-time work obtained for them by Mrs. Anne Harper, director of job placements. Mrs. Harper has been working with students and employers for the past ten years.

Job opportunities vary from stenography and engineering to walking dogs and acting as clowns at store openings. According to Mrs. Harper, the community is beginning to realize that Hartnell has students who are capable and willing to work at any type job.

Sorry, Pat!

The Panther Sentinel staff regrets that Pat Van Aernam was not identified with the pompon girls in the page one picture in last week's Panther Sentinel.

Speeches Set

Gary Keith was elected temporary chairman of the Education club at the group's first meeting. The club plans for bringing speakers during the semester, showing movies and organize field trips.

The purpose of the club is to aid those persons who think they may enter the teaching profession.

The advisers of the club are Mr. Karl Bengston and Dr. Duane Sandgren.

Vet Enrollment
Begins to Drop

A total of 103 veterans is enrolled at Hartnell. This figure represents a smaller number than during recent years. According to Mr. Karl J. Bengston, dean of admissions, the reason for the decrease is that students must be in college within three years after their service discharges. Most people who are being released from the service now have no educational benefits.

Miss Rodoni Elected
Art Club President

The newly elected officers of the Art club are, president, Carol Rodoni; vice president, James Rowley; secretary, Dale Shirachi; treasurer, Clara Anonuevo; Interclub council representative, Bea Charette; social activities chairman, Florence Rabe.

The traditional Art club president's jacket has been presented to Miss Rodoni by Mr. Joseph Bragdon.

Homecoming Plans

Selection of a freshman class queen candidate and plans for a float for homecoming will be discussed at a meeting of the freshman class soon, Carl Bergeron, class president, announces. Date and place of the meeting will be announced.

Night Signup
Hits 431 Mark
For 19 Classes

Approximately 431 students are registered in the 19 extended day classes that are being offered at Hartnell this fall. Classes are held from 7 to 10 p.m. one night a week. Subjects offered include vocational classes and lower division courses. Of the 19 classes, six of them are being held at Hartnell A and M.

Dean of extended day classes, a new position, is held by Mr. C. I. Bentley. According to Mr. Bentley, who has been in the Salinas school system since 1925, the main purpose of extended classes is to meet the needs of community residents who work during the day and want to extend their education or knowledge during the evenings.

Mr. Bentley's main concern is that students who attend classes during the day do not realize the value of enrolling in evening classes and taking courses that may be too crowded during the day or which may have time conflicts.

Dr. Michael Samsonow's Russian history has had the largest turnout so far, with about 50 students turning out for the first two lectures. There is still room for students who may wish to attend without receiving credit.

Writer Remembers
Compton Snobbery

HO-HUM, THE BLISSFUL MONOTONY OF IT ALL! Local football filberts seemed to enjoy watching the pugnacious Panthers haze the hapless freshmen from Cal Poly in much the same manner they had plundered the Pirates from Porterville the week prior. Enjoy it while you can, THERE WILL BE A NEW SCRIPT FOR TOMORROW NIGHT'S SHOW.

The terrifying Tartars from Compton have long been acclaimed the class of the junior college circuit. Rumors from Smogville say the coach uncages them before each game and that they actually eat their own young!

The Southland has long claimed its colleges to be the "major leagues" of junior college football. For many years Southlanders publicly scorned their northern cousins and many times fine northern elevens were shunned from Junior Rose bowl selection as being greatly inferior. In the long reign of southern "superiority" Compton has been the most dominant and devastating power.

Panthers Belittled by "Rebel" Scribes

In 1952, when all precedence and tradition was broken and our Panthers were selected to represent California against the Bacone Warriors from Muskogee, Okla., Los Angeles newspapers belittled and harassed Hartnell verbally and claimed the Tartars to be rightfully the representative team.

The day of the game the stands were filled with Compton fans openly stating that Hartnell would disgrace the annual classic. What happened is of course no news to Hartnell fans. Yet, the superb, undying competitive spirit our Panthers showed was a bitter pill for the Tartars to take. Hartnell not only performed gallantly, but the Panthers gave the Rose Bowl the most exciting and memorable hour of football in its long and proud history.

When our heroes go into battle tomorrow night let them carry with them the same undying spirit our valiant 1952 Panthers had when they took over the ball on their own four-yard line, trailing 20 to 14 with just two minutes, 38 seconds remaining, and then miraculously wrote the most glorious page in Hartnell football history.

If Coach Ken Blue's men can come up with a victory tomorrow night, they will add prestige to every junior college in northern California.

WORD FROM DR. DUANE SANDGREN: "Anybody who thinks he is in no way neurotic must be out of his mind."

Dr. B. L. Borough says, "The trouble with political jokes is that too many of them will be running for office in November."

Episcopalian Students Will Reorganize Club

The Canterbury club, an organization for Episcopalian college students, is being reorganized after three years of inactivity, according to the Rev. Edward Hailwood, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Assisting dry sterilization of glassware are provided. The laboratory has sufficient incubators for the growing of organisms at controlled growth temperatures. This is necessary to keep their characteristics constant, according to Dr. Wilson.

The laboratory is equipped with a constant temperature water bath for use where a close control of temperature is needed. It also has a centrifuge. This apparatus is used for such laboratory work as removing cells from blood.

Separate from the laboratory, bacteriology students and Dr. Wilson have a combined preparation and stock room. Within the preparation room is a separate transfer room where bacterial cultures may be handled with little danger of contamination.

Pure Cultures Needed

Dr. Wilson said bacteriological work must be done with pure cultures which contain one type of organism. If another organism invades a culture the sample is ruined and will not yield the same characteristics. Being able to transfer cultures in a separate room will protect the culture, according to Dr. Wilson.

Other facilities include a special sensitive balance for delicate weighing, an autoclave—an enlarged pressure cooker—for sterilizing bacteriological media and for killing off old cultures before equipment is washed. There is also a refrigerator for storing cultures when they are not in use.

The purpose of the new laboratory is to relieve crowded conditions in life science laboratories on the main campus and to provide a separate bacteriological laboratory where pure cultures may be stored.

Labs Were Crowded

Most one-hour lecture classes at Hartnell college meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This provides time for laboratory classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays. With the old facilities it was becoming impossible to schedule all laboratory periods on these two days. The need for an anatomy laboratory to meet state college and university requirements eliminated the facility formerly used for bacteriology.

Dr. Wilson is currently engaged in microbiological research and has had several articles published in that field. He holds degrees from Southern Illinois university, Iowa State college and Stanford university.

Dr. Wilson has a voluntary assistant this semester in George Sakasegawa, one of his former students whose education at San Jose State college was interrupted by army service during the Korean war.

Sakasegawa, who has one semester to go to meet requirements for a license as a medical technician, has had several bacteriology courses, but is taking the course as a review when he resumes his studies. He is also doing some special research.

the Rev. Mr. Hailwood are the Reverends Jerome Politzer, Salinas; Lee McArthur, Gonzales; Kenneth Sandercock, Monterey, and R. G. Rosson, Watsonville.

The Rev. Mr. Hailwood will act as chaplain when the club is organized, but the club is in need of a faculty adviser. The first meeting is scheduled for Oct. 15 on the Hartnell campus. On this same date, Episcopalian students on all college campuses will be holding a meeting to corporate worship.

The club, a branch of the National Canterbury Club Association of the Episcopal church, is planning to have monthly luncheons at which time they will have religious discussions, bi-monthly celebrations of Holy Communion, and various recreational activities such as miniature golf, bowling, dancing and skating.

Miss Everton Picked To Head Thespians

Elizabeth Everton was elected president of the Drama club recently.

Plans were also made for the after-game dance following the Hartnell-Vallejo game on Oct. 25. The dance will feature the Hartnell college jazz band under the direction of Mr. Robert Lee.

ers and pompon girls headed by the head yell leader, Ron Welch, will also make the trip to help give Hartnell a full backing. A second bus will carry the colorful Hartnell band, directed by Mr. Robert Lee.

The band will perform as it did at the Cal Poly game. Announcements will be made from the PA system and will be coordinated with the band's maneuvers on the field. Many football observers consider the Compton game the "make-or-break" on the Hartnell schedule.

Holiday Foods Being Taught In New Classes

Hartnell coeds have an opportunity to learn new techniques in the preparation of Thanksgiving and Christmas treats through a special one-unit foods class being offered by Miss Gladys Schmidt from Oct. 20 to Nov. 28.

According to Miss Schmidt, instruction will cover the preparation of candy, cakes, cookies and breads which are served during the holiday season.

Students are urged to see their counselors at once and enroll in Foods 55B. The class is limited to 12 students for each of the two laboratory periods, either Tuesdays or Thursdays from 10 a.m. until noon. Lectures will be given at 9 a.m. on Tuesdays.

Hartnell students are being given advance notice in order that they may enroll before the class is announced to other residents of the area, Miss Schmidt said.

Scholars Pick New President

Betsy Wong has been elected president of Alpha Gamma Sigma (scholastic honor society).

The other officers are Mrs. Pat Welch, vice president; Georgeann Cowles, secretary; Mrs. Reba Marie Anderson, treasurer, and Joe Hawkins, representative for the Interclub council.

Mr. Robert Johnston is the faculty adviser for the club.

Catholics Will Meet

The Hartnell Newman club will hold its first meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Sacred Heart hall in Salinas.

The adviser of the club will be the Rev. Dino Riccomini of the Sacred Heart parish.

The purpose of the club is to increase friendship among the foreign students and to give them an opportunity to meet American students.

The club cooperated with the World Affairs council in a world affairs dinner Tuesday. Guest speaker for the dinner was Dr. Paul Seabury, professor of political science at the University of California.

The dinner was held in the student union, and guests included foreign students who attend Hartnell.

Panthers Battle Compton Tartars

By Jim Gregory

The Hartnell Panthers will fly to Compton tonight to meet the once-defeated Compton Tartars.

Last week Compton dropped a close game to El Cerritos, last season's Rose Bowl entry, by a score of 12-7.

The Tartars have five sophomores, including two starters, back from last season. Dennis Summers, a 200-pound guard last year, has been switched to the quarterback position. Jim Palmer, a 230 pounder, is the other regular.

carrier, while Carey Rife, a sophomore, is the best punter. Compton's starting line averages 210, and the backfield averages 195.

Offense Varies

The Tartars will show a varied offense, including the unusual "I" formation.

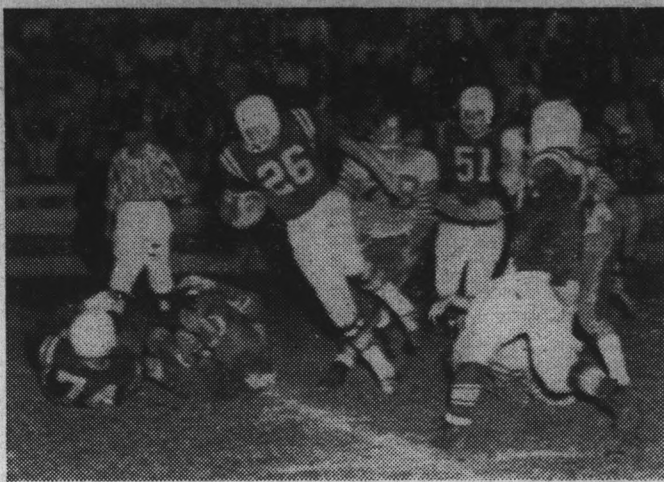

The Panthers will be without the services of Gary Harris again this week, as he reinjured his leg in the Cal Poly contest. Fullback Jim Stireman and Halfback Clem Deluca will be ready for the Compton game.

Coach Ken Blue commented on the good poise shown by his team, although the competition has been weak, and the regulars have seen little action. He believes the game with Compton will be the big test.

The Panthers will leave on the plane tomorrow at 1 p.m. They are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 3 p.m. They will eat in Compton and then go to the Compton student union. The game will start at 8 p.m. Hartnell will catch the return plane for Salinas at midnight and is scheduled to arrive in Salinas at 2 a.m.

The Panthers are idle next week. They face Diablo Valley in the first conference game at Pittsburg Oct. 18.

Machado Makes Gain

■ Chris Machado (No. 26) takes off for a long gain in Hartnell's 44-7 win over Cal Poly Saturday night. The other Hartnell player is Bill Elliott (No. 51). (Bob Ahead photo)

GREG'S GRIPES.

Turner's Loss Hampers Harts

By Jim Gregory

Hartnell's football team suffered a loss last week, with the injury of Halfback Hal Turner. Last year Turner was the second leading ground gainer for the Panthers, and led in kick-off returns. Turner received a broken scapula and will be out for at least six weeks and probably for the rest of the season.

Compton will probably use an unusual offense for part of the game tomorrow. The Tartars have an offense called the "I" formation. It consists of the four backfield men lining up in single file behind the center. The center may be anywhere in the line. Confusing, isn't it? Let's hope it doesn't confuse the Panthers.

Did you see the new backfield the Panthers have developed? In the last quarter of the Cal Poly game the backfield consisted of Bob Harrison, fullback; Mike Porter, left half, and Carl Bergeron, right half.

Harts Top Poly Frosh

By Dave Wynne

Two touchdowns in the first two minutes of play started the Hartnell Panthers as they went on to beat the Cal Poly Frosh 44-6 Saturday night.

Fullback Bob Cabanyog ran 59 and 18 yards for the first two TD's. The score at the half found Hartnell still on top by a 31-0 score after Chris Machado went one yard for the touchdown after running 47 yards in a previous play. Vern Horton made the final six points before the half with a two-yard plunge.

In the third quarter, Dick Juarez scored with a seven-yard run followed by a successful Cabanyog conversion kick. The Panthers' final tally was made when Dick Hardy went three yards.

Cal Poly managed to chalk-up six points in the fourth quarter, making the final gun score a 44-6 victory for the Hartnell squad.

Cabanyog Tops In Yards Gained

Top man in the Hartnell rushing attack averages for the first two games is Halfback Bob Cabanyog who leads with 179 yards gained in 16 carries, a total of 11.1 average.

In second place is Jim Stireman with 38 yards gained in seven carries and an average of 5.4. Dick Juarez has a slight edge of 72 yards gained in 14 carries to Chris Machado's 47 yards gained in nine carries, although each has a 5.2 average.

Wayne Handley, who saw little action in the Cal Poly game, still is at the head of the passing list. Handley's record shows five passes completed out of six attempted in the Porterville encounter for 20.5 average and 123 yards gained.

Cabanyog is top scorer for the Panthers, having scored three touchdowns and three conversions for a total of 21 point.
